PLANS MADE FOR BIG BARGAIN DAY

In Addition to Band Concerts and Free Picture Shows, Committee Will Have Outdoor Attraction.

OTHER ARRANGEMENTS MADE

$15 in Merchandise Will be Given to Shoppers Bringing Most People and One Coming Farthest.

Plans are about complete for the first "Big Wednesday" of the season which will be held under the auspices of the retail merchants committee of the Chamber of Commerce. The first bargain day will be held May 20, two weeks from next Wednesday.

The committee entertainment has employed the Arlington band to play morning and evening of the day. Arrangements have been made for all of the motion picture houses to give free shows during the afternoon of the day from one to five o'clock.

The committee has other plans under way, but is not ready to make any announcement yet. Some sort of a creditable outside entertainment will be arranged for very soon. The committee said the attraction will be absolutely first class.

"We hope the band stand will be up by 'Big Wednesday,'" said a member of this committee today. "The band stand will add greatly to the value of the concert. We are going to make the entertainment better than it ever was at any bargain day ever held here."

The advertising committee has arranged some novel stunts also. Fifteen dollars in merchandise to be obtained any place the man chooses will be given to the man who brings the largest crowd of shoppers here on "Big Wednesday," according to an announcement of the committee today. The purchase may be made all at one store or at any number of stores.

Fifteen dollars in merchandise will be given to the shoppers who comes the longest distance to buy goods on the special day. It will be necessary to take twenty-five cents worth at each store under the conditions of this offer.

Merchants are urged to have their copy prepared for the advertisement for "Big Wednesday" by Monday morning when the advertising committee will call on them.

The special committees have been hard at work on preparations for the day since the call meeting of the merchants which was held at the call of the retail merchants committee of the Chamber of Commerce. At that time merchants joined heartily into the scheme to repeat the bargain days that were so popular here when they were first tried.

CONVENTION DATE IS SET

Democrats to Nominate County Ticket Here June 6.

The Democratic precinct committeemen in a meeting here today selected Saturday, June 6, as the time for holding the county convention. They also decided that the delegates to the county convention should be selected on Friday or Saturday, May 15 or 16. Headquarters will be opened over the Krametz meat market in North Main street. It is planned to have the headquarters open by May 15. The headquarters were located there two years ago.

FIRST RESULT FROM BUREAU

DeGolyer Construction Company Applies For Laborers on Street.

The first results from the free employment bureau of the Chamber of Commerce were realized today when the DeGolyer company, which is paving the south end of Perkins street, put a request at the Chamber of Commerce headquarters that it could use from a half dozen to a dozen men at seventeen and a half cents an hour at construction work. The secretary, L. B. Smelser, has not had any requests from laborers yet. Lumbering men out of a job are scarce here because of large amounts of work now going forward.

BELIEVE THIS CITY NEEDS PLAYGROUND

This is Sense of Closing Meeting of Grade Parent-Teachers Association of Graham School

NEW OFFICERS ARE ELECTED

The last meeting of the year for the Grade Parent-Teachers association of the Graham school was held yesterday afternoon at the Graham building. New officers were elected and interesting talks and papers were heard.

It was the sense of the meeting that there should be supervised public playgrounds in Rushville. This was the conclusion reached after a discussion of the points brought out in a most interesting paper read by Mrs. A. L. Stewart on "Why The Child Needs the Playground." It is the earnest desire of the association that a public playground may be established here in the very near future. Dr. Will S. Coleman, president of the Rush County Society for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis, talked on "How to Prevent Tuberculosis in the Child." Miss Edith Caldwell read a paper on the topic, "Should the Child be Allowed to Read the Newspapers."

Mrs. Winnie Dill was elected president of the association for the ensuing year, Mrs. W. J. Pearson was elected vice-president, Mrs. Harvey Allen secretary and Miss Clara Applegate treasurer.

SUPPOSED MAD DOG IS KILLED

Canine That Has Been Terrorizing Northwest and West Part of City is Shot, Police Hear.

BIT SEVERAL DOGS AND A HOG

A supposed mad dog that has been terrorizing the northwest and west part of the city since yesterday noon was shot about noon today, according to information the police received. The dog was frothing at the mouth and gave every other indication of being a sufferer from hydrophobia. The dog frightened the housewives of North Sexton street yesterday afternoon when it ran wild in that neighborhood. The dog bit several dogs, but did not attack any persons, so far as could be learned. It was also reported that the brute bit a hog and a cow also. Policeman Blaine Hunt was on the hunt of the dog all morning, but failed to locate it. It is improbable that the head will be sent to Indianapolis for examination.

COMIC OPERA IS SIGNAL SUCCESS

"The Captain of Plymouth," Senior Class Production Attracts 900 People to The Coliseum.

PARTS ARE ALL WELL CAST

Music And Humor of Lines, in Addition to Capable Acting, Brings Rounds of Applause.

The most successful as well as delightful and entertaining home talent play in Rushville in many recent years was "The Captain of Plymouth," produced by the senior class of the high school at the Coliseum last night.

A crowd of nine hundred people saw the show and enjoyed it immensely. Frequent applause and numerous curtain calls were sufficient testimonials to the popularity of the production. The proceeds will be used by the class in purchasing some sort of memorial for Graham school, which is the custom with graduating classes here.

The lines of "The Captain of Plymouth" are clever. Pathos in one sentence becomes humor in the next. The modernizing of the lines of the famous love story of John Alden and Priscilla did not affect the central theme of the play. The story was still intact.

Simeon Stewart was excellently well cast as Captain Miles Standish, the braggadocio, who was brave in battle, but who could not stand up before the "No," fired point blank from a woman's mouth. He fitted the leading role exceptionally well, his voice was good and his enunciation fine.

Erasmus (Louis Hiner) Captain Miles Standish's right bower added much to the humor of his lines by his acting. This character contributed a good bit of the bi-play and Louis Hiner was well fitted for the part. He and Capt. Miles had one dialogue, when they were captured by the Indians and later released by an Indian maiden when the captain promised to marry her, which furnished a good part of the fun for the audience.

Miss Leah Flint, as Priscilla, was very fine, both in her dialogue and her singing parts. Her voice was well suited for the part and her acting was above the average for the amateur stage. Orlando Simmes was John Alden.

Many other features and characters are worthy of mention. John Norris, as Wattawamut, chief of the Pequots, played his part well and had opportunity to display his voice to good advantage Robert Helm esayed the part of Elder Brewster well. Benjamin Cox played the part of Jockson, an Indian messenger.

The songs were all well executed, especially the ensemble numbers. Most attractive, perhaps, of the singing parts, was the work of the sextette of Plymouth daisies, who were: Charity, Margaret Wolcott; Patience, Alliene Budd; Mary, Mildred Lore; Martha, Mary Louise Poe; Hester, Mary Louise Bliss and Ruth, Esther Anderson.

They made the most pronounced success with the singing of "I'm Sorry That I Said it, But I Did," and with "There's Nothing to do But Chat." In the last named song Miss Mary Louise Poe sang the lead and Lucile Gray, playing the part of Mercy, joined with the sextette. "Hail Captain of Plymouth," was the most popular tune in the comic opera.

The part of Kantoka, an Indian princess, was played by Sally Foster. Richard (James Shannahan).

NAME RUSSELL BY ACCLAMATION

Progressives of Sixth District Nominate Earlham College Professor Here Today.

DELEGATIONS NOT ALL FULL

One Convention Postponed Because Union County Didn't Show up—County Ticket Named.

Prof. Elbert Russell, of Earlham College, Richmond, was nominated by the Progressives of the Sixth District for congress at their convention held here this afternoon. Prof. Russell, in a long speech accepted the nomination and gave his personal view of political parties.

The district convention was attended by a large crowd of spectators and delegates, although the delegations were not complete. Union county failed to send a single delegate and Franklin county had only a few men present. The assembly room of the court house was crowded and as some one remarked, "a large crowd looks better in a small room than a small crowd in a large room."

Oscar J. Hall, of Shelbyville, presided as temporary chairman and gave a short address, while awaiting the arrival of the Fayette county delegation. The Fayette county delegation arrived in a special car accompanied by a drum corps. The Fayette county delegation helped swell the crowd.

The rules and order committee reported that it had selected Zell H. Swain of Henry county for permanent chairman and Alden Coulter of Rush county for permanent secretary. The report of the committee was adopted and Mr. Swain presided.

On the call for candidates Wayne county placed the name of Russell before the convention. There were no other candidates and the nomination was named by acclamation. All the other counties, with the exception of Union and Franklin, joined in the seconding of the nominating. Following the address of acceptance by Russell, short talks were made by W. H. Hedrick of Indianapolis and other party leaders.

Wayne and Union counties were to have held a joint senatorial convention, but not a delegate showed up from Union county and the convention was postponed.

The county convention this morning attended by a fair sized crowd, which was augmented largely by Democrats and men from other parties who were attracted to the convention. It was the first Progressive convention held here and the novelty of the affair attracted many. The Arlington band was on the job. In the convention hall only three pictures decorated the walls, those being of Roosevelt, Beveridge and Abraham Lincoln.

The county convention opened by selecting William Walker of Ripley township permanent chairman and Ben Ballinger of Anderson township secretary. The resolutions as adopted by the convention endorsed the state platform and re-affirmed the policies of the Progressive party as set out at the Chicago convention in 1912. The resolutions were read by Miles S. Cox of this city and were written by him.

Two names were placed before the convention for representative. Benton Henley of Ripley township and Warren W. Robbins of this city were the candidates. Henley was declared the nominee on the first ballot receiving 85 votes as to 31 for Robbins. James W. Gartin of Jackson town-

ROBERTS GETS A REBUFF

Women Refuse to Allow Terre Haute Mayor to Speak to Them.

(By United Press.)

Terre Haute, Ind., May 2.—Mayor Roberts received a decided rebuff today at the hands of 275 women attending the suffrage celebration here. He asked to be allowed to address them, "to tell the truth" about the trial in progress here in which he is charged with election frauds. The request was presented to the meeting and denied. Several women said they didn't want "to hear the truth from Roberts."

NEWCASTLE CHIEF IS OUSTED TODAY

John Wynn, Head of Police Department, Removed Because of Sensational Story Told Mayor.

FOUND IN HOUSE WITH WOMAN

(By United Press.)

Newcastle, Ind., May 2.—John Wynn, chief of police of this city since January 1 was ousted today by Mayor Watkins following a complaint filed against him by Cecil Hamilton of Newcastle who said he found Wynn in the Hamilton home with Mrs. Hamilton at an early hour in the morning. Wynn refused to resign when publicity was given the matter.

Hamilton, who is a baker, said he left his home for work at 2:30 a. m. and at that time he saw a man crossing behind a tree near his home. He worried over the matter and returned later with a relative. They found the chief, he alleged, in the house. He wore civilian clothes. Wynn was given an opportunity to resign before the matter was made public, but declined.

He said he had been notified that a peeper was bothering the neighbors and that he went to the place and was asked to enter by the man's wife.

Hamilton has left the city, declaring his home is broken up.

SUSPENDS JAIL SENTENCE OF BOY

Judge Megee Allows Fred Bennett to go Free During Good Behavior

But Fines Him $1 and Costs

ON GRAND JURY INDICTMENT

Fred Bennett was arraigned before Judge Megee this morning and entered a plea of guilty to the charge of petit larceny, which was brought against him in a grand jury indictment. Judge Megee assessed a fine of one dollar and costs and a six months jail sentence. The jail sentence was suspended pending good behavior. This is the second of the ten grand jury indictments on which arrests have been made.

Bennett, it will be recalled, was in court for stealing chickens valued at $2.65 from William Cook. The case was appealed to the circuit court and in the meantime the grand jury returned the indictment. Bennett is alleged to have sold the chickens to Max Goldstein and was identified as the one who brought the chickens to the Goldstein store.

ORDERS ALL TO LAY DOWN ARMS

President Wilson Today Issues a Proclamation in Attempt to End Colorado Strike.

DOESN'T APPEAL TO MILITIA

Promise is Made That Receipt for Arms and Ammunition Will be Given in All Cases

Washington, May 2.—Complete disarmament of all civilians in the Colorado coal strike district was ordered by President Wilson. A proclamation was issued by Secretary of War Garrison by direction of the President, calling on every person in the strike zone who has arms or ammunition to turn them over to the United States Army forces.

The order was crisp and imperative. It applies mainly to the armed strikers and mine guards. It does not apply to the state militia. Its wording is "All persons not belonging to the military forces" in the strike district. A promise to give receipt for the arms and ammunition was made, but with only the implied pledge of later returns.

This drastic step was taken by the President to stop civil war and bloodshed in Colorado. A time limit will be set and places assigned for receipt of the arms.

The Colorado district was today divided into four military zones of operation. Operations of cavalry will be directed from Washington by Garrison. No officer will be placed in charge because the zones are widely separated.

Outbreaks more bloody than any of those which have already cost more than a score of lives in the Colorado strike were predicted today by business men of this strike ridden city unless the federal troops promptly carry out the orders of Secretary of War Garrison to disarm both sides.

"It will not be enough to disarm the strikers of the mine guards," said a business man who feared to allow the use of his name. "Both must be disarmed and quickly. Business is now paralyzed. Never before in the history of the United States have conditions been so critical as they are here now."

ATTENTION MERCHANTS.

Merchants are urged to have their copy for their "Big Wednesday" advertisements ready by Monday morning as then the advertising committee will call for them.

Los Angeles recently received 225 new settlers in a body from Calgary.

Two Good Names Are Better Than One

If the names of a reputable dealer is linked with that of a manufacturer of national reputation in the exploitation of a trade-marked article it is a double protection to the consumer.

It puts a two-fold guarantee behind the article sold.

When dealers and manufacturer link their good names behind the advertising in the local newspapers there is a pull that is sure to bring results.

In such a case two good names frequently stand for great riches.

Why Not Pay More? For Sherwin-Williams Paint Than For Some Others

REASON No. 1—Because there is 20% more pigment in a gallon can and pigment costs more than oil.

REASON No. 2—Because the formula is on the can; you get just what you pay for—an honest paint.

REASON No. 3—There is no coal oil or cheap mineral oil in it.

when it comes to getting results—no matter how big his territory he covers it and after he covers his territory you know he has been there. The only difference between the territory we work in the buggy business and the territory the flea works in is we leave everybody in a satisfied frame of mind and we reckon the flea doesn't. There are lots of fellows selling buggies, however, that are like the flea. They jump over lots of territory, get a bite here and there and don't care whether you are satisfied or not, but we do want your business all the time and that is the reason we make our buggy guarantee as good as old line life insurance. We tell you what to expect from a buggy we sell you and then see that you get it. That is the way we are going to keep what we have and build more. We want you in on this proposition and extend you an invitation to call on us for your vehicle needs.

JANE ADDAMS IN A HUFF

Refuses to March When Suffragists Wouldn't Pass Resolution.

(By United Press.)

Chicago, May 2.—The fairest of May days greeted 10,000 women late this afternoon in one of the greatest suffrage parades ever held in the middle west. An eleventh hour clash, however, marred the day. Mrs. Grace Trout, grand marshal, and her aids, refused to pass the resolution requesting congress to act on the suffrage question. This angered the national association, led by Miss Jane Addams, and she wouldn't march in the parade.

OHIO IN LEAD
(By United Press.)

Columbus, O., May 2.—If one may judge from a report issued by the state board of health, Ohio is to lead neighbor states in the care of tubercular patients. It says that hospitals for the cure of every tubercular patient will be a reality in the next few years. Many costly hospitals are being planned or are under construction.

BOYS' POOL ROOM
(By United Press.)

Cleveland, O., May 2.—A city pool room for boys is Cleveland's latest municipal project, and it raised vigorous opposition on the part of the women's clubs. One woman, a member of the school board, differed from the others and recommended pool tables for every school.

SUFFRAGISTS OF CHICAGO PARADE

Were to Make This Afternoon and Tonight First Big Showing Since They Won Ballot.

OFFICIALS VIEW THE PAGANT

(By United Press.)

Chicago, May 2.—Several thousand suffragettes were to march in Michigan avenue late today in the first big suffrage parade ever held in Chicago.

Each of the marchers was to wear a white "suffrage bonnet" with the word "Illinois" fluttering on streamers, white shirtwaists, and dark skirts. Invitations were sent to several male political organizations but suffragettes do not expect to see many male marchers in the parade.

The start of the parade, originally set for shortly afternoon was postponed to give working girls a chance to participate. Governor Dunn and several legislators who actively supported the woman suffrage bill in Illinois, will review the parade from a stand near the art institute. Chief of Police Gleason promised ample police protection.

WOMEN SHOW STRENGTH

In Several State Capitols Today Suffragists Hold Demonstration.

New York, May 2.—Woman suffrage workers today showed their strength in a score and more of cities through the most impressive series of parades and mass meetings in the history of the movement. In every state capital plans had been made to call out the "suffrage army", and many thousands from coast to coast responded. Today's demonstrations were planned as a plea to the country for "emancipation of women." The biggest demonstrations were planned for New York, Chicago, Boston and Harrisburg.

WOMEN HIKE TO ST. PAUL

Many Walk Two Days in Order to Attend Suffrage Demonstration.

(By United Press.)

St. Paul, Minn., May 2.—All roads leading into St. Paul were dotted with little knots of women, all wearing yellow hats, who were "hiking" here to take part in the suffrage demonstration which began in the auditorium at 9 o'clock. Some of the women had been walking since yesterday morning and arrived at the mass meeting at the auditorium, feet sore but enthusiastic.

Following the meeting at the auditorium, the suffragettes adjourned to Rice Park where scores of prominent suffragettes from all sections of the country addressed them.

They leave this afternoon to take part in a parade at Minneapolis.

Amusements

Stewart has made a very good postmaster and has always kept his office right up to date.

Extensive repairs are being made to the Mauzy company's building. All partitions, with the exception of the one farthest east on the first floor, are being removed and a new stairway is being built in the north-east corner. A new electric elevator much smaller than the present one will be installed in the middle on the north side of the first floor. The office will be moved back to the partition separating the main floor and the toilet, boiler and packing room, but will still be elevated.

The Gem will show a three reel Gold Seal 101 Bison feature "Captain Jenny, S. A." for tonight's program. It is a dramatic production showing the good resulting from the Salvation army. Herbert Rawlinson and Hazel Buckham are featured. It is said to be a stupendous production with many thrilling scenes.

"Iron and Steel," a Vitagraph feature in two reels, will be one of the attractions at the Portola theater tonight. Miss Mary Charleston and Maurice Costello will have the leading parts. The second picture is "In Dredger's Claw," a Lubin picture of considerable merit. "Tigers of the Hills," a Kalem two-reel photoplay, and "Fight for a Million," will be seen at this theater Monday. Mary Pickford is billed for next Friday night.

For its Saturday night patrons, the Princess theater today advertises an especially attractive program. Norma Talmage and Leo Delaney will appear in the leading roles in "Sawdust and Salome." The principals overreach the bounds of propriety when they are ensnared by the craze for the tango and other modern dances, but it all ends happily by the husband learning to appreciate the virtues of his wife. Adele Lane will appear in "Thou Shalt Not Kill," a powerfully told drama taken from life in the mountains. "Won by a Nose" is a cracking good comedy. Alice Joyce and Tom Moore will be seen in a two-part picture Monday night.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 2.—During the war flurry the kids have made lots of good money peddling their papers. Extras in this city have been almost an hourly occurrence. When the news slowed down a bit the boys felt the change and didn't like it. One night a crowd got together in an alley adjoining a local paper and "framed up" on the public. They ran from the alley crying "extras" at the top of their voices. Quite a number of "jingoes" fell for the noise and bought the stale papers.

Mail Order Fakes.

It is so easy for mail order sharpers to defraud the public that Uncle Sam is forced to spend thousands of dollars annually, and to maintain a large force of inspectors and clerks to nip their fraudulent schemes. Frederic J. Haskin, the well known journalist, who has been writing a series of articles for the Chicago Daily News on the Postoffice Department tells about the mail order fakirs in a recent article on "Driving Out Fakes." The article is as follows:

The Postoffice Department has been fighting the fraudulent use of the mails for many years. The first effort in that direction was to issue a fraud order against the persons or associations guilty of fraudulent practices and deny to it the use of the mails either in the receipt or dispatch or mail matter. This helped some, but there were so many ways to get around it that the fraud order method of suppression was not productive of the most satisfactory results in the efforts of the department to prevent the use of the mail order service in the promotion of fraud.

Then the department decided to institute a system of prosecution against those who advertise tempting bait for suckers and use the mails in their operations. All sorts of schemes have been hatched up to part the unwary from their coin through the mails. One of the favorite schemes of getting money is through the advertising of worthless stocks with high par values and a cent on the dollar selling value. The victims in prospect are advised to remember the story of Standard Oil and hear again the story of Mergenthaler, are gravely told that there is a chance to plank down an honest dollar that ultimately will bring in returns that will make Standard Oil incomes look like starvation dividends in comparison.

The stock advertised may be that of an alleged gold mine, or of a land company owning lands that seldom peep above low tide, or of a company holding the patent rights to any sort of device from one guaranteed to revolutionize the art of transportation to one that will make diamonds out of egg shells.

The advertiser of medical nostrums and medical appliances usually finds himself able to do a land office business until a postal inspector comes around and finds out what he is doing. Some of them advertise remedies which have about as much therapeutic value as bread pills and red colored water, while others expatiate upon the virtues of appliances that are about as useful in effecting a cure as a string tied around the little finger is useful in staying off rheumatism. But they get business a-plenty in spite of it all.

The fraudulent produce commission house is a swindle that catches thousands of unsuspecting farmers. The house advertises for produce to be handled on the commission basis. For a little while things go along in fine shape, the farmers getting a good return in the accounts sales rendered, such good returns indeed that the excellence of the business of the commission house gets to be a community household word in divers rural sections. But some fine morning, after thousands of shipments have come in the house sells out, and the owners skip with commissions and returns as well, leaving a thousand farmers in the lurch.

Ordering goods under fictitious names is another scheme for defrauding, and, in spite of the best that Dun and Bradstreet can do, thousands of firms get caught by filling such orders the consignee leaves between the rising and the setting of the sun, and goes elsewhere to repeat his performance. Other individuals and firms order goods and fail to pay for them. A still larger number send checks with their orders; the business houses fill the orders first and despoit the checks afterward. A little later the house filling the order gets a note from its bank that the check in payment therefore has been returned marked "no funds."

There is a class
One would think that as completely as the gold brick swindle and the Spanish prisoner fraud have been exposed no one would be foolish enough to bite at either of them, and that, consequently, no one would be likely to try to capitalize on either scheme again. But the gold brick man still succeeds, and the prisoner in Spain still gets his remittances, and some of them have gone to prison within the last year for using the mails in plying their nefarious deception.

There is a class of advertisers who patronize the want ad columns of many newspapers with the view of making capital out of that widespread idea among the uninformed that a man can become a newspaper writer by mail, and that all he has to do is to take a little course in a correspondence school, and that thereafter he can make at least $100 dollars a month during his spare time writing newspaper stories. These advertisers catch thousands of ambitious people, but sometimes they get caught in turn. Clairvoyants, astrologers and palmists who advertise to tell you anything you want to know about yourself, or about anyone else, find almost as many "suckers" ready to bite and the Government net gets many of them in a year's time.

Perhaps one of the worst of the frauds is the advertisement of "work at home" schemes. You are told that if you order an outfit from the advertiser you can use it and the advertiser will buy your product in return. Usually the scheme appeals to poor people who can ill afford to lose a cent, and yet who hope to supplement an all too meager family income by doing some little extra work.

The free employment bureau of the Chamber of Commerce promises to be of immense value to the employees as well as the employers in Rushville. There is no reason on earth why it should not be patronized liberally and that much should come from it.

Of All Live Stock, Poultry is Best Adopted To Suburban Conditions

(Special to the Daily Republican)

Washington, May 2.—Of the various kinds of live stock, poultry is most widely adapted to suburban conditions for several reasons. It can be handled successfully on a very small amount of land. The waste products from the kitchen and the table may be used to advantage as feed. The care of the chickens is pleasant work, is comparatively simple, and may be done by any member of the family. Eggs and dressed poultry are always in demand and may be sold to advantage in any quantity, or used at home, thus furnishing a strictly fresh product which is hard to secure under general market conditions; and in addition, the care of poultry may provide recreation for adults, employment and good discipline for the children, and be a source of income to the housewife, or saving in the food account for the family, say poultry specialists of the Department of Agriculture.

The following breeds are among the most popular in this country: Plymouth Rocks, Wyandottes, Rhode Island Reds, Orpingtons and Single-Comb White Leghorns. The Leghorns belong to the egg-laying class of owls, lay a white egg and are especially adapted to large commercial egg farms, or to sections where a white egg brings a premium over brown eggs. The other breeds belong to the general-purpose class, and lay brown eggs. They are better adapted to the average person, for the farmer who keeps only a small number of bowls, as they are good layers and also make good table poultry. Another advantage of the general-purpose breeds is that they will hatch eggs and brood their chickens, while the Leghorns and other breeds of the egg-laying class are non-sitters.

A great variety of methods of feeding and caring for poultry are used successfully. Hatching and brooding, or rearing chickens under hens, is the best method to use where a small number of chickens are raised, and especially if the care is apt to be irregular. Incubators and brooders may be used also, but they increase the cost of equipment considerably. Chickens can be reared under hens successfully by keeping the hens confined in the brood coop, while allowing the chickens to roam at will.

When many fowls are kept in a small space, the ground becomes so foul that in time it becomes difficult to rear chickens with good success. In order to avoid this condition, it is advisable to divide the lot and sow part of it with some of the quick-growing grains such as, oats, wheat, or rye. By this method the yards may be rotated every three or four weeks during the growing season, turning the hens onto the growing grain when it is a few inches high. A good combination of grains is oats and wheat in equal parts, sowing 6 or 7 bushels to the acre (43,560 sq. ft.), and using wheat alone for the last seeding in the fall.

The prime essentials in poultry houses are fresh air, dryness, sunlight, and space enough to keep the birds comfortable. Allow about 4 square feet of floor space per bird for the general purpose breeds, and 3 square feet for the smaller breeds. A good egg-laying ration may be made of a dry mash of equal parts of corn meal, bran, middlings and beef scrap, which is kept before the birds in a hopper all of the time; and a scratch ration of equal parts of corn, wheat and oats fed in a litter 4 to 5 inches deep twice daily. Regulate this feed so that the birds eat about one-half mash and one-half scratch grain, which will mean feeding about 1 quart of mixed grain daily to 12 Plymouth Rock hens, or to 14 Leghorns. In order to utilize the waste table products to the best advantage, a moist mash may be used in place of the dry mash, feeding once daily. If it contains much meat table scrap may be substituted for the beef scrap; if not, merely add it to the mash given above.

The selection of stock is a matter of considerable importance, as a great deal of one's success or failure with poultry depends upon the individual specimens used to breed from. Care should be taken to select the early maturing fast growing pullets. Hens will not as a rule, lay until they are well matured; consequently it can be readily seen that the slow-growing breeds will not begin to lay as soon as the former. A good index to a hen's ability to pay a profit over the cost of feed and labor is her ability to be continually on the move. It is advisable to keep but one breed of pure-bred fowls, as the product from a flock of the same variety is more uniform than that from a flock of mixed breeds or mongrel stock.

It takes a healthy, well-fed flock to produce eggs. Fowls must not be allowed to become too fat, as but few eggs will be laid by hens in such condition. To prevent their getting overfat, it is best to make them work for most of their feed by scratching in the litter, of which there should be about 4 inches on the floor. This litter can be of straw, leaves, or chaff and should always be kept dry.

A good feed for egg production is one composed of corn, wheat, and oats, equal parts by measure. It is advisable to use home-grown grains whenever possible. In sections where corn and oats do not thrive, other grains can be used to good advantage; for example, a mixture of equal parts by measure of kafir corn, oats, and barley will produce good results. Scatter a small handful of this mixture for every three hens in the litter morning and noon, and give them all they will eat of it in a V-shaped trough at night. In the winter time some green feed should be fed at noon; cabbage or mangel-wurzels, either chopped or whole, are good. Every few days look in the litter carefully and see if the fowls are eating all the grain being given them; if not, reduce the quantity. Fowls that have to work for what feed they get seldom become overfat. Grit and oyster shells in a hopper should always be kept before them. The grit is used to grind their feed, and the oyster shell furnishes the lime for the eggshells. Be sure to keep water before them at all times. Birds that are laying drink much more water than those that are not laying. The water should be kept out of the direct rays of the sun.

The period of time it takes to hatch eggs of the domestic hen is 21 days. There are two methods of incubation and brooding, namely, natural and artificial. In natural incubation and brooding the hen is allowed to sit on a nest of eggs and brood or mother the young chicks when hatched.

PRISON LEAGUE STARTED TODAY

Four Team Organization at Michigan City Institution got Under Way for Season

HALF HOLIDAY IS DECLARED

Games Will be Played Every Saturday and Prisoners Given an Outing at Park

(By United Press.)

Michigan City, Ind., May 2.—The baseball season at the state prison opened today with a game between the "Nationals" and the "Americans," members of the four-team league that has been organized among the convicts. The prison had a half holiday. The band played and the convict spectators "rooted" from the grand stand for their favorites. Here after there will be a half holiday at the prison each Saturday during the summer for baseball.

A four-team league, the members of which have been trying out for three of four weeks, will struggle for a pennant and other trophies and there will be occasional open dates for game with amateur teams of the city. All prisoners whose conduct during the week is such as to merit the afternoon outing will be permitted to witness the games.

The baseball ground lies alongside the west wall and is 400 by 250 feet. It is paved with concrete with a dressing of screenings and is as level as a floor. The park was prepared for the double purpose of having baseball games and military drills. These drills will be held at any convenient time. One of their purposes is to give exercise to those men who have no regular employment. The drills will include only setting-up exercises and marching. They will be conducted by prison officers who have had military experience.

Baseball was introduced last year at the institution for the criminal insane adjoining the main prison enclosure, and the innovation proved so satisfactory that Warden Fogarty decided to introduce it at the prison together with the military exercises.

RUSHVILLE TEAM EXPECTS TO WIN

With Ed Sanford in Box Arcadians Should Put up Fast Game—Poston Will Umpire.

BOB GEARY FOR SUPERBAS

(By Doc Hiner.)

The Arcadians are all ready for the game tomorrow with the Cincinnati Superbas. The Rushville team expects to win with Ed Sanford in the box and the fans can expect a pitchers battle as he will be opposed by Bob Geary, who is known for his work here last year. The management has secured Poston, of Gwynneville, who has been umpiring the games for the Arlington Red Sox, to officiate tomorrow. Poston umpired here last fall when the Arcadians played the Arlington team and his work was very satisfactory to the fans.

With favorable weather one of the largest crowds of the season is expected as the Superbas is a high-class attraction and a good game can be expected. With good support behind Sanford the Rushville team should make a fine showing and Manager Fisher is expecting to win. The game will be called at 2:30 o'clock.

DRIVER NOT SELECTED YET

Indianapolis, April 28.—Bob Burman has entered the green Keaton he drove at the speedway last year in the next Indianapolis five-hundred-mile race, making the thirty-second contestant to register for that event. Though himself driving another car, of his own make, Burman has such a strong attachment for his old machine that he did not want to see it go unentered, believing it able to finish in the money, if not win. Its capabilities were thoroughly demonstrated during the preliminary practice last year, when it set the 1913 two and one-half miles lap record of 1:37, equivalent to 93 miles an hour. The driver has not been selected as yet, though Louis Chevrolet, Hughie Hughes, and Billy Knipper have been mentioned for the job. Any of these three would take the big emerald bus through in fine style.

KNIGHTSTOWN TO BE HONORED

Commandery No. 9 Which is "Father" of Them all in This Part of State, Has Big Part.

IN COMING STATE CONCLAVE

It is Invited to Open Indiana Event in Form, an Honor Which Sel-dom is Given Small Place.

Knightstown Commandery, No. 9, Knights Templar, which is the "daddy of them all" in this part of Indiana, will be signally recognized at the annual Grand Commandery meeting which will be held in Indianapolis May 13 and 14. As a recognition of its proficiency, the Grand Commander, Judge Ibach, has invited it to open the Grand Comamnderv in form.

Formerly New Castle, Rushville and Greenfield Templars all held their membership in this Commandery, but some years ago withdrew and established Commanderies in these cities, but in doing so, however, there was no friction caused, and the membership of each of these Commanderies look upon "Old No. 9" as the "Mother Comandery," and make it frequent visits. At the May Conclave all these Commanderies will join in giving the reception.

The honor that will be bestowed on the Knightstown Commandery is one that probably never before has been conferred upon a Commandery outside of a Conclave city, and the local membership fully appreciates the importance of the invitation, and under the direction of O. E. Holloway, Captain General, and Floyd J. Newby, Eminent Commander, are making every effort to put the Commandery in such shape that it will maintain its well-earned reputation.

The second honor is a testimonial to the high rank and personal popularity of Very Eminent Grand Senior Warden, Sir L. P. Newby. In addition to the Grand officers of the Knights Templar of Indiana, all the Grand Officers of the Grand Encampment of the United States are to be present, and this will be the first time in the history of Masonry they have ever participated in a State Commandery meeting to such an extent. Mr. Newby is chairman of the Committee on Arrangements for the state meeting, and is also an officer of the Grand Encampment of the United States, a fact that also reflects additional honor on Knightstown, for never before has so small a town been honored with a member of the Grand Encampment, and he stands in line to ultimately succeed to the highest office in that order in this country. The presence of the Grand Encampment Officers of the United States is to pay honor to Mr. Newby, to give a fitting testimonial to his services and fidelity to the Order.

A series of brilliant parade, banquet and balls have been planned, and competitive drills are on the program. It is to be by far the most brilliant affair ever given at any State Commandery meeting in the country, and will bring thousands of visitors to the State. If the plans do not miscarry, the meeting will rank second only to the Tri-Ennial Conclave of the American Knights Templar. There will be present prominent Masons from New York, Pennsylvania, Michigan, Ohio, Illinois, Minnesota, Iowa, Colorado, Kentucky and Texas.

Knightstown Comamndery is to have a prominent part in all the proceedings. In the grand parade it will be headed by the Indiana Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' home band. It will also hold a reception on the evening of May 13th, in the Empire and English parlors of the Claypool hotel. Music, refreshments and floral souvenirs will be provided.

While Knightstown is the smallest city in the State in which a Commandery is located, its Commandery is not the smallest or least in importance, as for the last quarter of a century it has never stood lower than second, and often first, in point of efficiency, in the competitive inspections that are held bi-annually.

This Commandery has also produced some of the best known Templars in the State, among them being the late Reuben Peden, who was once the Grand Commander of the State; Dr. O. E. Holloway, who has served as Grand Master and now one of the Trustees of the Grand Lodge, and L. P. Newby, who was for several years Inspector General of the Grand and Subordinate Commanderies of Indiana, and was elected and served as Grand Commander, and has for the past ten years been an officer of the Grand Encampment of the United States, and being in line for promotion, will eventually be Grand Master of that body, which includes in its membership 250,000, Templars, and is the largest Templar body in the world.

Mr. and Mrs. Newby will, on one evening during the Conclave, give a dinner in the Claypool in honor of the distinguished guests to which all the present and past officers of the Grand Commandery of the State, and their wives, the Chairmen of the Committees, and their wives, are invited.

Special cars have been engaged to carry the Knightstown membership and their wives and the Home band to the conclave.

MEDICAL CLUB MEETS.

PLEATINGS AND PIPINGS OF BLACK AFFORD EFFECTIVE CONTRASTS

Along with the oddly figured, quaintly patterned materials of by-gone days come the prim pleatings, quilling and pipings that served to trim grandmother's best taffeta frock. They are most effective, too, often stepping in and lending just the right finishing touch.

A cream-white eponge fashions the semi-tailored suit shown in No. 8137-8212. Collar and cuffs are of black taffeta edged with one of these narrow, hand-made pleatings of taffeta; the two circular tunics on the skirt are bound with narrow bias bands of the taffeta.

Cotton eponge is wide and may be purchased from 75 cents a yard and up.

This suit may be made in size 36 with 2 3/4 yards of 36-inch material for the coat (8137), and 3 3/4 yards of the same width for the skirt (8212).

In the second suit the effectiveness of a colored check combined with a plain cloth is well displayed. The coat is of brown cloth, the new dark shade now so popular; collar, cuffs, sash and skirt are of a brown and white plaid. There are some very effective red mixtures in these plaids, also some blues and greens. This coat is a kimono model, the back extending over the shoulders to form a yoke, there is an inset vest and a Medici collar which may be wired or turned down. The skirt is a three-piece design.

To make this suit in size 36 the coat (8133) requires 2 1/2 yards of 42-inch material, and the skirt (7971) 2 3/4 yards of the same width.

VILLA ROSE TO FAME QUICKLY

Mexican Populace Begins to Idolize

"Hero of Torreon" and he Doubtless Overshadows Carranza

HIS CAREER IS A MYSTERY

General Accepted Version is That he

Was Born a Peon on Mexican

Soil—Another Tale

Washington, May 2.—That Villa is the man most likely to be the next President of Mexico has become the general belief in Washington. The Mexican populace has begun to idolize him as a military hero and no doubt remains that he now overshadows Carranza in the eyes of the Constitutional party.

Villa's protestation that he does not want to be President of Mexico are received skeptically in Washington, particularly by those who have had any occasion to do business with Villa himself.

Villa, those who know him declare, will be the man of the hour in Mexico when Huerta falls, and will not be able to keep himself out of the presidency, even if he wants to.

Once Huerta is out, there are few in Washington who doubt that the Mexican people will turn to Villa as their champion and probably will make an idol out of him. Fickleness is a rather constant quality in Mexico, and those who fight for Huerta today may cheer for Villa tomorrow. Mexico has preferred the Villa type of man in the past and is likely to prefer it again.

No career in Mexico is surrounded with more mystery than that of Villa. While the generally accepted version is that he was born a peon on Mexican soil, there is a story that Villa is a Maryland negro whose name is George Goldsby and that he once served in the Tenth United States Cavalry. Most of the stories about him are a perplexing mixture of fact and legend, but all of them generally agree that he is man of astonishing military attainment, dashing courage and fiendish cruelty, who is not envious to the shedding of blood, but rather delights in it. The tale of his crimes is an amazing one. So also is the story of his leadership.

When it is remembered that Villa, having fled Mexico after the rise of Huerta, returned to that country only 13 months ago with nine men at his back, and in six months was leading an army of 12,000, the man's capacity for organization and mastery of men cannot possibly be doubted.

Huerta having conceived a dislike for Villa, had reduced him from power as a military leader and forced him to curry the horses in the presidential stable.

Villa finally escaped. When he returned to Mexico across the Rio Grande border in March of last year with his nine followers he was riding a stolen horse, carried a borrowed revolver and had as provisions for his band two sacks of flour.

Half a year later his army of 2,000 men well armed had a train load of ammunition and supplies, possessed 38 field pieces and 50 machine guns, and boasted a war chest of more than $5,000,000 in gold and silver Mexican coin.

That Villa, if he achieves the Presidency of Mexico, will remember the wrongs of the people for whom he has fought is regarded as a matter of great doubt. There is evidence that he is fond of pomp and display. In his palace at Chihuahua it is recorded that he built a raised platform, covered it with rich rugs, set upon it a large gilded chair and hung over it a canopy of red velvet embroidered with gold. Sitting in this chair, Villa is declared to have received the homage of his followers much after the fashion of a King.

Certain it is that Villa is by all odds the most interesting man in Mexico. How much of a real friend he is to common people may only be disclosed by letting him have a try at the Presidency.

Stephen (Ivan Coyne) and Gilbert (Wilbur Woollen) were the Beau Brummels of the village.

The Puritan maidens were: Ruth Innis, Lois Bussell, Mary Smith, Esther Geraghty, Gladys Titsworth, Beatrice Reeves.

The "Army" was well cast. Long Forest Webb, a drummer boy, stood side by side with Short Harry Schmalzel. Equally as grotesque were the other pairs of the army. They were as awkward a squad as the playwright could ever have hoped for. They carried blunderbusses or any other such weapons that bear the name. Their comedy was not mirthless and the crowd showed its appreciation for the work of the army by several rounds of applause.

The army was constituted as follows. Merle Pierson, Forest Webb, Ira Fultz, Floyd French, Arthur Frye, Harry Schmalzel, Ralph Martin, Harold Wolcott and Stacy Hinkle.

Those who played the part of the Puritan men were as follows:

Harry Green, Owen Carr, Stacy Hinkle, Herman Sampson, John Norris and Ivan Coyne.

The following were squaws: Mildred Myers, Marie Newhouse, Beulah Meredith, Helen Norris, Lura Bowen, Maude Jones, Jean McClanahan and Margaret Kelley.

The Indians were: Ivan Coyne, James Shannahan, Wilbur Woollen, Harry Green, Owen Carr, Stacy Hinkle, Herman Sampson and John Norris.

Much of the success of the play is due to Merle Maupin, who added strength to the whole production by his excellent accompaniment.

100 BOY SCOUTS WILL TAKE PART

Will Act as Members of the Hospital Corps at State Encampment of G. A. R.

LECTURE FOLLOWS PARADE

(By-United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., May 2.—Plans for the G. A. R. encampment May 6, 7 and 8 in Indianapolis include the use of about one hundred Boy Scouts who will be uniformed and will wear a green cross on their sleeves as insignia of their office as members of the hospital corps.

Dr. John W. Sluss, superintendent of the City Hospital, has agreed to furnish an ambulance equipped for service for use in the parade by the hospital corps. The corps will follow the veterans in the parade.

The parade will be held the afternoon of the second day of the encampment. It has always been a feature of the annual encampment. Though the veterans are past the age for marching, there is no disposition even to consider giving up the custom. Every year the physical infirmities of some of the veterans have proved too much for their spirit, and the service of the hospital corps has been in demand.

After the parade a lecture on "The Evolution of the Flag" by Patriotic Instructor Irwin B. Arnold, will be given at Tomlinson Hall. This feature is of particular interest and value to children and a number of children in downtown schools are expected to attend if the school board will give permission.

Modest Flat In New York City Doesn't Cost Very Much Either

BY CARLTON TEN EYCK.
(Written for United Press.)

New York, April 29.—There undoubtedly are a host of folks in America who bemoan the fact that it costs them an unheard of amount of money to get the kind of flat they want to live in. Let these folks draw nigh and harken to what it is costing Mrs. John P. Laflin to live in the only kind of flat she would "even consider." Mrs. Laflin is today paying exactly $4,166.66 2/3 per month for what she calls a "modest flat" of thirty-five rooms in New York City.

"Oh, well," some folks will say, "Mrs. Laflin probably has a mint of money, and about twelve children and as many more cousins, aunts, uncles and sisters living with her." Draw near once more, those of you who are paying $20, $50 or $75 a month rental and think you ought to have eight instead of four rooms in your flat, where you and two or three other persons live.

In Mrs. Laflin's family there are herself and her daughter. Of course, the household personnel includes about ten men and women servants, for, as Mrs. Laflin explained, she intends to do quite a bit of entertaining at home. Mrs. Laflin is not unusually wealthy as it goes in Little Old New York. She believes though that she ought to economize on other things and spend the savings on the place where she spends most of her time.

The thirty-five room apartment includes the entire floor of a big skyscraper apartment house on exclusive West End Avenue. There are eight bathrooms, and several specially planned rooms larger even than many drawing rooms and reception rooms in some of Riverside Drive's handsome mansions.

No better illustration of the power of that insidious thing "The System," and of the degenerate, distorted "sense of honor" which holds among New York's gunmen, underworld habits and social pariahs could have been given than that furnished by the so-called "confession" of Dago Frank Cirefeci, one of the four Rosenthal murders a few moments before he paid for a life of crime in the electric chair at Sing Sing.

Dago Frank, after a kind of fear of his Maker had been put into his heart by the heroic Sing Sing priest, said he would tell the details of Rosenthal's murder. In his pathetic attempt to show he had no actual part in the shooting he proved two things beyond any question of doubt—that told Clancy, he was fearful that vengeance, sure and pitiless would be visited on his hapless mother and sisters by "members of the gang" who survived him.

Within a few minutes of the beyond, Dago Frank, once a leader in that world of individual reprisal and vengeance, feared to tell all. He even went further. He laid the actual killing to Harry Vallon, whom two courts had practically admitted was merely a co-conspirator, obviously to be revenged because Vallon turned state's evidence; and he did his best to clear one who still rests under stigma as being the head of the conspiracy.

Frank's "confession" held himself and Whitey Lewis guiltless on the charge of murder. He protested that he and Lewis should not be electrocuted, because, although he admittedly made all arrangements for the murder, he was not at the scene at the time, and therefore fired no shot at Rosenthal. Lewis, Dago Frank contended, pointed his gun at Rosenthal and pulled the trigger, but the cartridge did not explode. Therefore according to the Dago Frank way of thinking, and Frank's opinion mirrors the opinion of his ilk: Whitey Lewis was not guilty of murder.

That last minute talk of the doomed gunman, has worked as a flare-back to the fight of certain sentimentalists that perhaps, after all "those poor boys" were not guilty but were being sacrificed to white-hot public demand for reprisal. That last minute talk, coupled with the later discovery of bribery in connection with witnesses who tried to prove that the gunmen should get a new trial has shown that New York punished some of the men who planned and carried into execution the murder of Rosenthal.

Attorney For State in Election
 Frauds Case Uses Sarcasm in Referring to Roberts' Attorney.

OFFENSE WORSE THAN MURDER

(By United Press.)

Terre Haute, Ind., May 2.—"This case decides whether we shall have free and equal elections," said Attorney Whitlock for the state, opening today his argument for the conviction of Mayor Donn Roberts for election frauds.

"This offense is greater than murder for it effects more people," continued Attorney Whitlock.

Whitlock sarcastically attacked Eph Inman for the defense for his show of tears recently, saying Inman was a good actor. Later Whitlock demanded that the "criminal be brought in." Inman suggested that Whitlock get a looking glass "if he wanted to see a criminal."

ship was declared the nominee for county treasurer by acclamation. At this stage of the convention District Chairman Robbins of Greenfield was introduced and made a brief speech in which he urged the Progressives to organize and put out complete tickets in every township. Robbins stated that the Sixth District Moosers was as well organized as either of the two older parties.

There was a three cornered fight for the nomination of sheriff and it finally went to Alden Coulter of Center township after two ballots. The candidates besides Mr. Coulter were Clay Benedict of Rushville and William Ridenbaugh of Orange township. The vote on the first ballot resulted as follows: Coulter, 48; Benedict, 41½; Ridenbaugh 29½. On the final ballot Coulter received 69½ votes, Benedict 24 and Ridenbaugh 25.

Dr. J. E. Walther of Glenwood was declared the nominee for coroner by acclamation.

Loren Martin of Jackson township was nominated by acclamation for recorder. There was only one candidate for surveyor and that was John L. Nipp of Washington township. The candidates for assessor is Edgar Thomas of Anderson township.

The commissioner for the middle district that was nominated was John Gartin of Rushville township. The candidate for the northern district is Jesse Trobridge. There were two candidates for the northern district commissioner but after all the townships had voted, Ripley withdrew the name of Charles McFtridge.

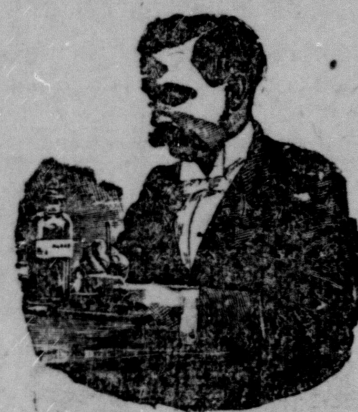

The councilmen-at-large named were Charles McFtridge, Ben F. McFarlan, and Demp Norris. The other councilmen are as follows: Byron Gates, district No. 1; Clarence Tevis, No. 2; Ed Sherman, No. 3; Fred Huber, No. 4.

The Progressives of Wayne and Fayette counties met in the sheriff's office this morning and selected Augustus Hoelscher of Richmond, for the candidate for joint-representative of these two counties. The Fayette county delegation placed the name of John S. Clifford, an unsuccessful candidate two years ago, before the convention and on the vote the two counties gave their support to their respective candidates. Wayne county gave Hoelscher 46 votes and Fayette gave Clifford 13 votes. Because of the difference in the representations of the two counties, Clifford never had a show. W. E. Ochiltree of Connorsville acted as chairman of this convention.
